

I have learned
recently Sinclair Broadcasting has ordered it's stations to
broadcast a very
biased and indeed
almost wholly fictional
"documentary" (that's what they call it) named
"Stolen Honor:
wounds that never heal." Basically
this is anti-Kerry
propaganda and by
pre-empting
scheduled
programming and
running this in
prime-time, it appears Sinclair Broadcasting is attempting to use
it's television
stations to
interfere in the upcoming election!

I thought this was
illegal under
electioneering laws,
and it shows the
growing danger of
media
consolidation---
where a very few people can use mass
media to control
public opinion on a
topic.

This is terrible!
It shouldn't be considered
acceptable behavior
for a large media
corporation. Please consider
strengthening media
ownership rules to prevent this type of abuse.

Thank you.

Tony Wilson.
